

Jayne Moore Waldrop
Kentucky Arts Council Board
Lexington, Ky.

Jayne Moore Waldrop has had a varied career in both writing and law and as a community volunteer in Louisville and Lexington. She holds juris doctorate and bachelor of arts degrees from the University of Kentucky. Jayne began her legal career in private practice at Stites & Harbison in Louisville. She later served as director of Student Legal Services at the University of Louisville and as a staff attorney for the Kentucky Education Association. She was also an adjunct professor at the University of Louisville. Prior to attending law school, Waldrop was a newspaper writer and editor at The Paducah Sun.

Jayne has been very active in the arts community in Kentucky. She served as board chair of Stage One Professional Theatre for Young Audiences and was on that board from 1998-2005. Waldrop has also served on the board of directors for the Kentucky Museum of Art and Craft, the KET Greater Louisville Regional Advisory Board and the Friends of the University of Kentucky Art Museum. She recently chaired Art in Bloom, the largest annual fundraiser of the museum.

Jayne was a volunteer lawyer for many years through the Legal Aid Society of Louisville.

Jayne is also a painter and has exhibited in several local shows. She is married to Alex Waldrop, and they have two sons.
